The Huddle

-Our clients can't understand the bill.

-Easy. One hundred K per provision, we explain. Two, they can do a rewrite.

-But, Senator...

-I'm not listening. It's Pay For Play. What could be clearer?
And clarity ain’t charity. Besides, it’s not a crapshoot.
They pick the section most affecting them.

-Wow! Isn't this too much like bribery? I mean, like usually there’s a gauze, a screen. Scrim in the Theater of Burlesque.

-Or a softshoe? We're saving the government’s time.

-If not its money.

-You'll leave me and write speeches for the goody two shoes on the other side.

-No way! Where's the entertainment there?